NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Condensed and Put Into Readable Shape.

THE steamer St. Francis sank in the Lachine Rapids of the St. Lawrence River on the 30th. She had fifty passengers on board, who were landed on an island where they spent the night.

ROBERT KERR, a dissipated member of a wealthy family of Edinburg, Scotland, was burned to death in a house on Oak River, Manitoba, on the 30th while intoxicated. He had just come into possession of a large sum of money.

THE first bale of cotton ever picked from the field by machinery was exhibited at the Charleston (S. C.) Cotton Exchange on the 30th. The condition of the cotton was pronounced by cotton men as good as handpicked of the same grade.

WHILE Hunter's Consolidated Show was exhibiting at New Edinburg, Ark., on the 31st, unknown persons fired a volley through the canvas. The bullets passed through all parts of the tent, which was crowded with spectators. A contortionist who was performing in the ring was shot through the head and died instantly. The fiends who fired the volley fled to the woods.

THREE HUNDRED houses in Savannah, Ga., covering half a square mile, a large cotton warehouse containing three thousand bales of cotton, and much other property, were burned in a fire which broke out at noon on the 31st. Fifteen hundred people, the greater part of them colored, have been rendered homeless and sleep around fires which are built on open lots. Three persons are known to have lost their lives, and the number will probably be raised to ten. The loss is roughly estimated at $1,000,000, with insurance aggregating less than half of that amount.

A SPECIAL carrying the officers of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, running brought suit for $50,000 for false impris- mid-channel on the 31st, and sank. There as fast as the engine could be made to go, collided near Fountain City on the 31st with a freight train. The wreck was a bad one, but there was no one serionsly injured.

NINE Cherokee Indians have organized themselves into a company for the purpose of establishing a National Bank at Vinita, Indian Territory, with a capital of $50,000. A HORSE-THIEF named Small, in the Belvidere Jail, N. J., has taken a notion that he will surpass Dr. Tanner's record as a faster. He has eaten nothing since Octo-

McFadden, of Winnipeg, and Martland, of St. Louis, fought for $1,000 aside, at Caldwell, Idaho, on the 31st. Martland was carried from the ring insensible at the end of the fourteenth round, and will probably die.

CHAS. H. SAMS, of Savannah, Ga., was shot and killed at New York on the 31st by his mistress, Jennie Mitchell. The woman claims it was an accident.

Two masked men robbed the vault of the County Treasury of Virginia City, Nev., a few nights ago of $8,000. They overpowered the Treasurer and locked him up in the vault. The affair is considered mysterious, as $4,000 of the amount was in silver and too heavy to carry off.

THE Detroit Free Press and the Post and Tribune have reduced in price from five to three cents per copy.

A TRAGEDY resulted from a game of croquet near Woodbury, N. J., a few days since. Rudolph Hines became angry beeause his wife beat him at the game, and kicked her with his heavy cowhide boot. She became unconscious and died soon after.

THE libel suit of the Allan Steamship Company for $50,000 damages against the Montreal Witness (newspaper), was decided in favor of the newspaper.

THE fence-cutting troubles in Texas are believed to have been adjusted, and no further trouble is anticipated. A GANG of ten counterfeiters, whom s

Government detective has been watching for months, have been captured in Pike County, Ind.

New light-buoys, from England, are to be anchored off Cape Lookout, the Diamond Shoals and Cape Hatteras, which are supplied with condensed fat gas. They will burn day and night for four months without attention, and can be seen a distance

THE steamer Katie P. Kountz and cargo was destroyed by fire in the Mississippi River, at Davis' Landing, twenty miles above New Orleans, on the 1st. The boat was valued at $18,000, and insured in Eastern offices for $9,000.

As THE freight train on the Southern Pageific was crossing the Santa Anna River bridge near Canton, Cal., on the 1st, a carwheel broke. Eighteen cars were precipitated into the river. The loss was heavy. Two tramps were killed and two brakemen injured.

THE double team, H. B. Winship and Hiram Bruce, made their mile at Narrathe best time ever made by a double team, and is within half a second of Maud S.'s

WASHINGTON NOTES.

THE Interior Department has joined the Naval Observatory in recommending that the time of the 75th meridian, which is to be the standard of the Eastern division of the uniform railway schedule, be adopted as the local time of Washington City, and the recommendation meets with no opposition from the other Departments. If the change is made, the clocks in Washington will have to be put forward eight minutes

LONDON AGAIN SHAKEN.

Two Terrific Explosions in the Underground Railway in London Cause Great Consternation-Fifty or Sixty Persons Wounded and a Large Amount of Property Destroyed-The Crime Attributed to Fenians-Alleged Discovery of Rocketlike Contrivances.

London, Oct. 31.—At eight o'clock last evening a terrible explosion occurred near the Praed-street underground station of the Metropolitan Railway. On the first alarm a strong cordon of police was summoned to preserve order, to keep the way clear, and to convey the wounded people to hospitals. Passengers on the train at the scene of the explosion say there was suddenly a loud report, like a cannon, and then suddenly darkness, the gas-lights from the front to the rear of the train being put out. Glass was broken and splinters of wood flew about the cars, cutting and wounding many passengers. Above the din were heard the shricks of the injured and panic-stricken people. All this occurred in a moment, and for a while confusion reigned supreme. The train, which was crowded, contained principally country visitors returning from the fisheries exhibition. After leaving the station the train traveled steadly alread, although the concussion smashed nearly all the lamps in the Praed-Street Station and caused much damage to the permanent way.

When the train reached the next station, on the Edgeware road, the first effort was made to rescue the wounded. Some were dreadfully burned, but more were prostrated by fright. All the doctors, surgeons and dispensaries in the neighborhood were called into requisition. The first impression was that an explosion of gas caused the disaster, but later inquiries tend to show malice. Two rear carriages were damaged most. They are mere skeletons. Another theory is that the explosion was caused by foul gas accumulating in the tunnel. This, however, is untenable, because no premonitory symptoms were observable. The general opinion of railway officials and experts is that the disaster was caused by some explosive material which had been placed probably in the rearmost carriage. Meanwhile a searching inquiry is proceeding. It is believed that about forty persons were injured, some dan-

Almost simultaneously with the Praed street affair, a violent explosion occurred in the underground railway between Charing Cross and Westminster stations. Windows shattered. At Charing Cross the glass roof of the station partially collapsed. The report is described as being like that of artillery. The effects were similar to those of the Praed street explosing. Carriage lamps, windows, etc., were smashed. All traffic was suspended for a while. Although both explosions are matters of the greatest mystery, they are generally thought to have been of Fenian origin.

The shocks of both explosions are described by officials as very similar to the shock at the local government board office in March last, in which Dr. Gallagher was implicated. It is stated that four machines similar to rockets were found in the tunnel, near the Praed-Street Station. Altogether six carriages were shattered by the explosion near Praed street. Although about forty persons were admitted to the hospitals, many more were injured, but were sent directly to their own homes. The Times says that since the disastrous events at the local government board, in March last, nothing has occurred so calculated to excite public alarm as the explosion to-night. It is evident the occurrences were not accidental. The explosives were of a most powerful nature. Suspicion points in one direction only. It is hoped the authors will speedily be brought to justice.

Fatal Choke Damp.

Pritsburgh, Oct. 31.—Kiefer & Stiefel's tannnery, in the upper part of Allegheny City, was the scene of a terrible affair Tuesday morning, two men sacrificing their lives in an unsuccessful attempt to save their fellow-workman. The firm have been digging a well to be used as a vat, and this morning Christ Dickson, an employe, went down to measure the depth of water, when be was overcome by foul air. Ferdinand Schrader Charles Schultz. who working near by, heard his Schrader descended well to assist him. But no sooner had he reached the bottom than the fatal choke damp rendered him insensible. Schultz then followed, but he was also overcome. Ropes were then procured and fastened around the bodies of Salome Bamberger and Rhinehart Remsen, who were lowered into the death trap. With difficulty they tied the bodies to the ropes, and all were hauled up. Dickson, Schrader and Schultz were dead and Bamberger and Remsen were unconscious, but with the aid of restoratives were soon revived, and they were able to go to their homes. Dickson was single, and the other two were married.

Novel and Pathetic Scene.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—There was novel and pathetic scene in the new courthouse Tuesday, where Charles Briggs was on trial for the murder of his wife, or alleged wife. It was a twelve-year-old girl although she seemed small for that age, whose testimony will probably send the prisoner in the dock, who is about fifty years old, to the scaffold. The little girl, who was as bright intellectually as she was pretty of face, told the story of the killing with vivid distinctness. This has already been related, but her subsequent evidence. wherein she detailed the previous quarrels of her mother and her father, as she called Briggs, completely upset, in advance, the theory which it is expected the defense will adopt, viz.: That the prisoner is insane, or was at the time of the killing. The little girl told of the repeated quarrels between Briggs and her mother about women and men, and unfolded an awful story of domestic depravity.

-Political writing in Hawaiian journals is not much behind some other "barbarous" eountries in vigor, as the following from a recent issue of the Honolulu Gazette may illustrate: "The history of the present Administration, with its kaleidoseopie Cabinets and boards, is an account of blunder upon blunder, until now the Great Muddler has fairly sunk up to the neek in a sea of mud, from which no skill can extricate him."

A Singular Game of Chess A singalar game at chess has just been finished in the north of Seotland. The game was begun about twelve months ago in Brooklyn. The first player, Mr. J. B. Munoz, made a move, and then passed the seoring sheet on by post to a friend. That friend made a move in reply, and then passed the paper on by post to another well known player, who made a move in continuation. In this way the document found its way to Baltimore, where Mr. Sellman, who played lately in the London tournament, added a move and sent the paper on to Jamaiea. From Jamaiea it was sent to England, and, after passing velvet linings and faeings for the front through the hands of well known players in London and other towns, who each added a move, it began a tour among the ehess players of Seotland. After traveling as far north as Dallwillingten, the document was sent back te Sheriff Spens of Glasgow. That gentleman examined the position, and decided that the game was lost for white, as black could force an exchange of rooks and win with the pawns. He therefere returned the game to the first player, Mr. J. B. Munoz, who now sent it to London to be published as a curiosity in the Chess Monthly, where it has just appeared. The seoring sheet bears the signatures of seventy players, who or white net is also the base of very each made a move in the game, and the decument shows that it has passed from hand to hand through thirty two towns and cities of England, Scotland and

A fore foot of perceptibly smaller size than its fellow, may, in the eourse of time, become feeble and ineapable. A flat foot, shaped like an oyster, has many rings and wrinkles, and probably requires a hollow-shaped shoe, and generally renders the animal unfit for the saddle, and not the fittest one for the plow. A low-heeled foot renders the animal a bad traveler; and hauled in 1763, eostly china ware over a high-heeled foot is subject to unsteadiness of action, to tripping and stumbling, and to sprains in the eoffin and pastern joints. A foot of disproportionately large size is usually aecompanied with slenderness and comparative weakness of limb, and indieates inability for any brisk or vigorous action. A white foot is popularly regarded as inferior to a foot of any other color. Indeed, when a horse has too many of his feet white they do not always prove the best; yet we have seen white-footed horses have their feet such that the ablest judges could not find fault with. When a foot is smooth and tough, of a middle size, without wrinkles, neither too hard and brittle, nor too soft, and when the heel is firm, open and in no ways spongy or rotten, and the frog horny or dry, and the sole somewhat hollow, like the inside of a dish or bowl, whatever be the eolor, such a foot will for the most part turn out good, though the dark or black hoof, when it re--A twenty-dollar gold piece and a sembles that of a deer, is generally the upon their legs and pasterns, to avoid their having too many white feet .-Prairie Farmer.

For instance, there are smooth erowns with stiff lining, and there are full soft eap erowns; there are box-plaited erowns in lengthwise plaitings, and there are festooned pieces aeross the erown made of velvet edged with beads or of eloth finished with ehenille; and brims are equally diversified by being full or plain, puffed or box-plaited, in smooth folds, or with a slight coronet smoothly eovered with velvet or dotted with large moulded beads or with jets cut in many facets. One pretty faney is that of eovering the bonnet with velvet pointed bits in leaf shape an inch and a half long, beginning in the center of the crown and extending to the edge of the brim, where there are tiny ostrieh tips falling forward on the hair. Another novel arcangement has rows of fine knife-plaiting of doubled velvet, each row an inch wide, starting in the center of the erown and eovering the whole frame. This is pretty in three shades of a color, thus cream velvet in three rows forming the crown, with golden brown plaitings next, and darker ehestnut brown plaitof bonnets still continues, and some of the most eostly bonnets for day receptions have the crown of ivory white velvet nearly eovered with embroidery of eolored pearl beads, ehenille, and silk while the front is made of puffs of dark moss green, golden brown, or the new brilliant red velvet. There are also rich bonnets made of very fine white eamel's-hair and of India eashmere em-broidered with gold and silver threads, or wrought with large dots done in fine jet beads, or else the fine wool fabrie is plain, and is laid in many folds on the erown, with a brim of plaited ehenille or of puffed velvet or of feathers. FORTY BILLION GERMS.

A Wonderful Theory That Concerns the Welfare, Happiness and Life of Everyone.

In his quiet and cozy library at the close of a busy day sat a gentleman and his wife, he absorbed in a new book and she in the newspaper. Quickly glancing toward her husband, she asked, at a certain point in'

"John, what is the germ theory?" "The germ theory-well-yes; just look in the encyclopedia under 'Germ,' that will explain it so much better than I can." · Accordingly his wife opened the book at the word named and read: Germ Theory of Disease-A theory advanced by the ablest and best investigators and scientists of the times. It supposes the surface of the earth, the air and water to be inhabited to a greater or less extent with a peculiar growth of the lowest form of fungi-commonly termed bacteria, whose power of reproduction, under favorable conditions, is so great that a single germ will increase to fifteen million in twenty-four hours' time, and unchecked in its increase would grow to a mass of eight hundred tons, in three days' time, if space and food be furnished. There is no condition under which it can be said to be absent, unless it be from fire or air filtered through cotton-batting in numerous layers. A single drop of water containing a germ, put into water boiled, filtered and thus freed from bacteria, will grow murky in a day or two from the development of new germs. When it is considered that it requires about forty billion to weigh one grain, some remote idea can be had of the capacity of germ reproduc-tion. Prof. John Tyndall, in a late work, elaborately treats of the influence of germs in the propagation of disease, and charges upon this cause the inception and development of very many of the ailments most injurious to man. Prof. Pasteur, an eminent French savant, has carried his original and beautiful experiments so far, and from them deduced such practical results, as very greatly to diminish the number of cases of anthrax among sheep and chicken cholera among fowls-proving his theory that these are essentially and actually germ diseases. These germs are carried into the system through the lungs, the stomach and possibly the skin, but through the lungs chiefly. Once in the system, they begin to develop, po soning the blood, invading the nerve centers, disturbing the functional activity of the great organs of the body, and inducing a general impairment of the vital processes. They are the cause of fevers, rhenmatism, Bright's disease of the kidneys, pneumonia, blood poisoning, liver disease, diphtheria and many other ailments. Lately Prof. Koch, a famous German physician, has proved that consumption of the lungs is due to this cause—tae

When the circulation is bounding, the nerves elastic and the system all aglow with life and energy, the germs seem to develop poorly, if at all. But with weakened nerves, poor digestion or malassimilation of food or a lowering of vitality from any cause, a change ensues, and in this impoverished and weakened fluid the germ finds a genial home and develops until symptoms of disease are distinctly manifested. This is seen in the everyday experience of all. The healthy man resis s the influences around him and does not take cold, while those whose systems have become weak from any cause readily contract colds. This is on the same principle as the germ theory. The germs attack any weakened spot in the body, and fixing themselves upon it, begin their propagation. It is plain therefore that it is only by fortifying the weak portions of the body that the germs of disease can be resisted and driven from the system. But this has proved almost an impossibility heretofore, and it has been the study of physicians for years how best to accomplish it. Within the past few years, however, a preparation has been attracting great attention, not only throughout the entire land, but among the medical profession and scientists generally, which is based upon this theory, and it may safely be said, no remedy has ever been found which can so successfully place the system in a condition to resist the germs of disease as Warner's Saie Cure. This article is unquestionably the best and most efficient that has ever been discovered for this purpose, and-"John, say, John! does the encyclopedia advertise Warner's Safe Cure?" "I should not wonder, dear, it's a grand remedy, and that pamphlet we received the other day stated that Dr. Gunn, of the United States Medical College indorsed it. At all events the wonderful cures it is accomplishing entitle it to be honorably noted among the great discoveries of the present

However the facts above stated may be the truth remains that the germ theory of disease is the correct one, and that the great remedy mentioned is the only one which has ever been found that can put the system in a condition to kill these germs be fore they obtain a hold upon the body, and undermine the life.

SCHOOL TEACHERS.

MR. H. L. SOPER, Principal of the High School at has given him much anxiety and pain: "My wife and I have both used Hunt's Remedy, and find it really a superior article, A year or so ago my kidneys became weak and sluggish, owing to a severe strain, and finding relief in Hunt's Remedy I continued its use until I had used four bottles, when I became well. Since my cure I have suggested its use to a great number of peopic, who I know have been benefited by using it." And to substantiate this statement, Mr. H. S. Clark, Assistant Superintendent of the High School, says: "I can certify to the value of Hunt's Remedy, having received great benefit from its use. My troubles commenced twelve years ago, when my kidneys became afflicted with inflammation of the passages, but the timely use of so valuable a medicine arrested the disease. I can now cheerfully recommend it to all suffering as I was." MAY 31, 1883,

This most remarkable statement was made by Mr Frank B. Lee, clerk in the office of N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., Little Falls, N. Y., on the 8th of June, 1883. Mr. Lee says: "My father has been troubled for over twenty years with severe kldney and bladder disease, suffering the most acute pain when urinating. He became so bad that he was obliged to give up all business. His condition was such that his urine would drop constantly, and he was obliged to use a rubber bag, the weakness was so great. He used many kinds of medicine without deriving any benefit, until he was urged by one of our druggists in Little Falla (Mr. Skinner) to use Hunt's Remedy, as he had known of its being used in many cases with great success. I purchased one bottle, and he commenced using it, and he was so improved that he got along without the rubber bag. He used in all twelve bottles, and it has entirely cured him. Father is sixty-two years old, and we consider it a most wonderful cure, and cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all afflicted with kidney, liver or urinary troubles.

All the evidence published in regard to Hunt's Reme dy can be relied upon; it is true in every particular.
